Obtain the most respected credential evidencing expertise in US customs by passing the US Customs Broker License Examination (CBLE) this October. A passing score on the CBLE indicates not only a willingness to take on tough challenges, but also an ability to navigate rules that directly impact international supply chain operations. The broker license is a pre-requisite on many job requisitions for management-level positions at both shippers (multi-national corps) and logistics firms.

We are pleased to offer this outstanding CBLE prep course taught by Keith Hwang, a proven instructor who is both a practicing CHB and attorney. Keith has recently upgraded his course for offering both in-person and live webinar options to participants in conjunction with CBFANC. The in-person class will take place at 139 Mitchell Avenue, South San Francisco and will include updated technology to facilitate preparation for the recently computerized CBLE. Anyone interested in learning more about this course should contact Keith directly at keith@secondjune.com (650) 224-6680 and/or visit the following webpage: <https://customsbuddy.moodlecloud.com>.
